Dr. Walter Hoffman, bacteriologist. is the man who has worked indefatigably in the matter of examining the soil of burnt districts for bubonic bacilli. His work was thorough and complete ; and none but one who could have watched him in his labors in the laboratory can appreciate the amount of work necessary before it was finally decided that no plague germs lurked in the soil and it was safe to raise the quarantine on the burnt districts. Dr. Hoffman has been most ab'y and industriously assisted in his bacteriological investigations by Dr. Camp.

Nothing was accomplished except the adoption of the following resolution which was offered by Charles L. Rhodes, City Editor of the Star, and which was passed without comment.

Resolved, That the chairman of this meeting be authorized to appoint a com-mittee of twenty-one to be announced through the newspapers, to provide a plan of enrollment and organization and to prepare an address to the people of the Territory of Hawali, and to report at a ing, "There is no use talking any more meeting to be called hereafter. The offi-cers of this meeting shall be members of this committee.

There was considerable telling of what Democracy is or ought to be, by more than one eloquent speaker, and there was a flat-footed statement from more than one present that they did not propose to ally themselves with any party until they knew more about them. There were not many natives at the meeting. A few seated themselves in the rear of the hall and listened.

Two natives spoke. One, John E. Bush, made statements curiously opposed to one another. A verbatim report of his address will be found further on. J. Before the meeting closed a half hundred left their places in the body of the hall and went home, although it was but little after 9 o'clock. It was remarked that half those present were newcomers to Honolulu, as their faces were strange to old-timers.

The people began to come early to the hall, which was superbly lighted, and ished, and the new stores and dwellings can then be connected with the lings can the lings can then be connected with the lings can the lings can the lings can the lines are lines as a line with the lines are l the premises to be opened up. he heard imperfectly and that the interests of the gathering would be better subserved by a younger man. But the audience wanted Dr. McGrew, and persisted in their calls until he took the platform. At his suggestion that he be given an assistant, McCarthy was elected and seated himself beside the venerable physician. John Wise was elected secretary.

Wise thanked those who had honored him, and Mr. McCarthy said that he felt greatly the honor conferred upon him in having been elected vice-president of this meeting. "During the proceedings of this evening," said he, "I will try to act as the Doctor's other ear to the best of my ability. As may of you know, I have resided in this country for a very long time. I have never voted the Democratic ticket in the States. My affiliations in the States before coming here were Democratic. I fore coming here were Democratic. I was born a Democrat. When I was a boy at home I always tooked forward to the Democratic torch-light processions. American politics are to me the same as they are to a great many people here who have never voted them. I have not had any active participation in politics. I hope before long we will all understand and digest the principles of the Democratic party, and I have no doubt but that the Democratic party will have a large following in the conduct of affairs in this Territory in the future. I have not formed any 'slate' is only a preliminary meeting for the Democrats of Honolulu to get acquainted with each other."

E. B. McClanahan Talks

E. B. McClanahan was the first speaker of the evening called upon. He said:

Mr. Chairman, I feel some diffidence in talking Democratic principles in your presence, for I believe that long before knew anything about this world, Dr. McGrew knew all about Democratic prinwith some pleasure, and feel some pride meeting and a strange condition that ing the meeting, waiting to consider all of the Hawaiians who are here on the threshhold of the new political life find it new to them. They have not en-tered yet either door which stands open oncerns the people of this country. Most ill of the Hawaiians who are here on for them. They have not made up their minds which way to turn, and it is not to be wondered at.

I am indeed surprised to see so many Hawaiians here, for they want to know which way to turn, and that question must be decided by them before long. So it seems to me it is a compliment to the good sense of those who are hesitating in this matter that there are among us tonight those that have not decided in their minds what party they will belong to. I think it is an omen of common sense of a man that he does not jump at one conclusion, and ignore the other, before making up his mind. This reminds me of the story my father used to tell. He was in Arkansas, traveling with two attorneys. They were out fishing, and stopped at a tavern in the mountains that was presided over by a worthy old gentleman, After the supper was finished he was asked if there was anywas no "slate." If there was it was not away the time, and he replied that there was a debating society which was to meet, and he would like to have the three attend. So they betook themselves and in its place an unsatisfying fill and there found the old tavern-keeper presiding over the meeting.

Horse and Cow-Both Win.

The question of the debate was whether the cow was more useful than th horse. It was suggested that one of lawyers take the affirmative side and the other the negative side, and the chairman was to decide the question. One of he waxed eloquent over the cow, he saw that the chairman was getting uneasy on his chair, and moved about nervously about it, gentlemen, the cow has it,"
Of course the other attorney immediately protested, and said he had not been heard yet and desired a hearing of his side of the question. He was spurred on by the difficulties of his undertaking, and annual affair. Dr. Wood can not spare he was more than eloquent on the virtues the time just now to go with the rest

So after you have heard the virtues of the Democratic party, I hope those of you who are undecided will say for himself. "I will follow the Democratic party from Honolulu on the eleventh of June. ty." I think I voice the sentiment of most Democrats when I say I don't believe that the Democratic party have had a fair chance to be heard in this town. We have no newspaper, and all we have done is to sit by and calmly await events. We have not precipitated our actions, and I think the doubting Thomases will bear with me when I say we have not been unduly anxious for their suffrage.

I confess that I am somewhat diffident in my role as teacher. But you will bear with me, I know, and I will do the best I can to tell you what I know of the Democratic party; I assure you that behind me is a patriarch of the Democratic party, and if I make mistakes I am sure dresses of the evening, was ordered to while of the differences that exist mainly between the Democratic party and the Democrats vs. Republicans.

You will find them; they are clearly marked; but the number of them has been on himself and his opinions of the lack multiplied, simply to meet the exigencies of political wire-pulling and vote catching. I will speak of one of clearly defined differences as I see between the Democratic party and the Republican party. Perhaps we don't all know that the Democratic party was once authorized to publish regulations procalled the Republican party. In the times of Thomas Jefferson, that great man who framed and penned the Decladent Wood appointed H. E. Cooper a ration of Independence, our name was a different one, and to that party we owe our birth. And so when the Republican sary regulations to keep the Hilo fish party was not yet dreamed of, much less thought of, the Democratic party was within bounds. uling this country of ours, or, rather, should say the United States of Amerca, and had ruled it for almost half century. It was in 1856 that the Republican party became a party at all, and that was the time when slavery existed man should speedily be appointed as in the United States, and was the great plumbing inspector, so that bad and political question, and it was because of faulty plumbing could be prevented. No that question that the Republican party was formed. And so when you hear our principles derided and laughed at, and scorned, and when you hear that if you spector was going to look after the mattrust the Democratic party you will ter, great harm would be done by caremark out your own ruin just remember. mark out your own ruln, just remember less and faulty plumbing. But I assure you, gentlemen, I have boldness in approaching you as a Democrat and speaking to you of the principles of which I know. This is an honor to you and an honor to me, that we are here tonight in this, the first meeting which the Democrats are to hold. When we have gone on through life, we will look back at this meeting with some pleasure, and feel some pride Board that the President should set a in the fact that we have attended a day for the taking up of Dr. Noblitt's meeting of this kind. It is a strange case. President Wood set no date durfavorable time.

List of Lepers.

Mr. Reynolds had submitted a list of the names of persons who had been declared to be lepers by the Board of Examiners and who are at present at the Kalihi receiving station awaiting transfer to Molokai. Upon a motion to the effect that the lepers named be sent to Molokai, it was decided that with the exception of certain persons, those lepers now at Kalihi should be taken to Molokai by the next available boat. One or two of the exceptions are very young children who may possibly be cured as the disease has only just com-

Fifty-two persons are named in the list of lepers. Of this number thirtythree are Hawaiians, eleven are halfwhites, four are Portuguese, three are Chinese and one is German. Out of the fifty-two, thirty-nine are males while thirteen are females. The ages of the lepers range all the way from five to sixty-seven years. Twenty-one are from this Island, fourteen from Maui, fourteen from Hawaii and three from Kauai. Those of Oahu come from the places named below, as follows:

Two from Waialua, three from Kakaako, two from Kamoiliili, two from Auwaiolimu, two from Kukuluaeo, and one each from Waipahu, Puuloa, Hothe attorneys opened the debate, and as nolulu, Kalihi Camp, Kawaiahao, Manoa, Kawehewehe, Niolopa, Waipilopilo and Waikiki,

It is about time for the Board of Health to make its regular visit to the Leper Settlement on Molokai. This visit used to be made semi-annually but has come now to be more of an annual affair. Dr. Wood can not spare of the horse over the cow, and soon he saw he was winning the chairman over to his side. Again the chairman jumped to his feet, and said, "Gentlemen, the horse has it."

So fitter years have been the cow, and soon he saw he was winning the chairman over to his feet, and said, "Gentlemen, the horse has it."

The time just now to go with the rest of the Board so it was agreed at the meetin yesterday that the visit should be deferred for awhile. The matter of the quarantine wharf was the next subject for aiscussion. A full account of this is given in another column.

New Board Members.

Two vacancies in the membership of the Board of Health, created by the recent resignations of Dr. Day and F. M. Hatch had to be filled. Dr. C. B. Cooper and E. C.
